

Is Your Business Compliant with California's Harassment Training Requirements?

If your Company has 50 or more employees, you must provide supervisory employees with 2 hours of interactive sexual harassment training every 2 years. California imposes specific requirements concerning the content and format of the training seminar.

Effective training on harassment can prove critical in preventing workplace harassment, maintaining a harmonious workplace and avoiding costly litigation.

Harassment Training Seminar

Conn Maciel Carey LLP is pleased to offer harassment training seminars for managers and supervisors in English and Spanish that meet California harassment training requirements. Each course includes a two-hour training session per work site, with personalized materials, for a flat fee.
