JULY 23, 2021 | IN THE PRESS

Apple isn't the only tech company spooked by the Delta variant

This article, on how some tech companies are reevaluating return to office plans in light of Covid-19 Delta variant concerns, quotes San Francisco Labor & Employment partner Rachel Conn on possible facial covering mandates and considerations about the Delta variant that employers should take into account.