NOVEMBER 1, 2021 | IN THE PRESS

Critics of Biden vaccine mandate 'lobby' for change in rare meetings

"I've never seen anything like it," said Eric Conn, who met with Biden officials on behalf the Employers COVID-19 Prevention Coalition.

He said he thought the meetings with individuals might be reducing the amount of time senior policy analysts were spending with industry and advocacy groups. "It appears to have impacted the quality of the opportunity for stakeholder feedback," he said.

Read the full article in Reuters