Save the Date! Midwest Workplace Safety (OSHA/MSHA) and Labor and Employment Law Summit in Detroit, MI

Conn Maciel Carey's Midwest Workplace Safety \(OSHA / MSHA\) and Labor and Employment Law Summit in Detroit, MI is an in-person program hosted by the attorneys in CMC's national OSHA / MSHA Workplace Safety and Labor • Employment Practice Groups based out of our Midwest Region offices (Chicago, Detroit, and Columbus), and joined by their colleagues from Washington, DC and California. This program is designed to update employers on important developments from federal OSHA, MSHA, and the State OSH Plans in the Midwest (i.e., Michigan OSHA, Indiana OSHA, Iowa OSHA, and Minnesota OSHA), as well as important labor and employment law issues.

A New Era of Workplace Law and Deregulation: Key Updates and Compliance Strategies

This comprehensive event will provide essential updates on federal and state OSHA and MSHA enforcement and rulemaking, the latest developments from the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), and enforcement trends in wage and hour investigations and other employment law topics under the second Trump administration. Our panel of legal and compliance experts from both private industry and the regulatory community will offer valuable insights and practical strategies to help businesses remain compliant and mitigate risks in a shifting regulatory landscape, including:

- An enforcement and rulemaking update about the Midwest State OSH Plans.
- An analysis of labor policy developments under the new administration and it's implications for workplace regulations and employer obligations, as well as wage and hour enforcement trends.
- In-depth exploration of workplace audits, investigations, and attorney-client privilege.
- Strategies for reviewing and strengthening DEI programs within legal and organizational frameworks under the rise of anti-DEI rules.
- The evolving landscape of workplace safety and labor relations, including the Worker Walkaround Rule and its implications for labor environments.
- Strategies for identifying, evaluating, and controlling workplace health hazards in manufacturing and construction worksites.

- A simulated OSHA inspection, including a third-party union organizer under the Worker Walkaround Rule.

2023 Summit – Working Agenda
8:00-AM EST	Continental Breakfast/Networking
8:30-AM EST	Workplace Safety Improvement and Regulatory Update Join us for a comprehensive session covering key updates and priorities from workplace safety agencies at both state and federal levels. Our panelists will provide the latest insights into OSHA's enforcement strategy, regulatory priorities, and compliance expectations. We will also explore what a second Trump administration could mean for the OSHA, including potential policy shifts and enforcement trends and whether they may apply to state-plan states. Additionally, the session will include an important update from MSHA on mine safety regulations and enforcement trends, as well as an overview of state OSHA's latest initiatives and compliance focus areas.
9:00-AM EST	Break
10:00-AM EST	Labor and Employment Regulatory Update With Trump's return to the second Trump administration could mean for labor policies, workplace regulations, and employer obligations. Then, we will follow up with an overview of updates on the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) and General Counsel and with the agency's operations. Wage and hour experts will provide updates on critical compliance issues and enforcement trends. We'll also discuss the use of anti-OE rules, exploring their legal and organizational implications. Don't miss this opportunity to stay informed and prepared for the evolving labor and employment landscape.
11:00-AM EST	Investigations, Privileged Audits, and Report Writing This session will take a deep dive into workplace audits and investigations, offering best practices for ensuring compliance and mitigating risk. Our panelists will guide attendees through the critical aspects of workplace audits, safety audits, and incident investigations, highlighting common pitfalls and strategies for maintaining compliance. We will also explore the role of attorney-client privilege in audits and investigations, ensuring sensitive findings remain protected. Additionally, the session will cover the best practices for reviewing and strengthening diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) programs to align with legal requirements and organizational goals.
11:30-AM EST	Lunch and Panel Discussion on the Intersection between OSHA and Labor This session will explore the evolving landscape of workplace safety and labor relations, focusing on the Worker Walkaround Rule and its implications for traditional labor environments. Our panelists will discuss how this rule impacts employer obligations, union representation, and workplace investigations. Additionally, we will address the growing concern of workplace violence, examining its effects on labor relations, employer responsibilities, and strategies for prevention.
1:00-PM EST	Networking / Break
1:30-PM EST	Modern Hazards Manufacturing and construction workplaces often include many modern health hazards (nanoparticles, pesticides, threats to workers). These hazards are often in the form of musculoskeletal disorders from repetitive motion and awkward lifting, exposure to airborne dusts and vapors, noise, and high ambient temperatures from equipment and local weather. Evaluating risks and having a plan to mitigate health hazards is an integral part of your company's safety plan. This session will take a look at some of these hazards and provide you the tools to identify, strategize, and control these uncertainties, and offer solutions to meet the latest OSHA standards and enforcement initiatives, writing in-place procedures to protect your workers and avoid citations.
2:00-PM EST	Break
2:30-PM EST	Interactive Mock OSHA Inspection This interactive session will simulate an OSHA inspection scenario, including the participation of a third-party union organizer under the Worker Walkaround Rule. Attendees will gain firsthand insights into employer rights, compliance obligations, and best practices for managing inspections while balancing regulatory requirements and labor dynamics.
3:30-PM EST	Closing/Remarks
The agenda may be subject to change.
